2010 Playoff Structure

There will be three divisions—East, Central and West. Each team will play all the other teams in the division in a round robin format. Teams within the division will be ranked based on the results of the round robin.

In the second round, teams will play single-elimination playoffs. The matchups will be based on standings in the round robin. The bottom two teams in each division will not advance. The final will be decided by a best 2 of 3 series.
